With each day comes the beginning of new memories. The days fade away while the memories become more precious. These memories have an impact on our lives. People influence us. Events change us. We are shaped by our surroundings. Become a part of the surroundings and learn by discovering what they have created.

DEDICATION

During the past four years there have been countless people who have helped us become who we are. There were those who taught us and those who advised us; those who were our big sisters and those who were our little sisters; and those who were our friends.

However there is one special group who stand out as being probably the most important people in our lives. They watched silently while we made mistakes, knowing that making mistakes was a part of our growing up, and praised us for the slightest accomplishments. They laughed with us and cried for us and stood by us when no one else was there. They gave us love, patience, support and understanding. And in appreciation for all that they have done for us, we, the Class of 1982, dedicate this year's Sights and Insights to our parents, with the hope that they are as proud of us as we are of them.

Committee

The Beginning

There's no college like Salem College
Like no college I know
Everything about it is appealing
The beauty of it all is something rare
No where could you get this happy feeling
Except at Salem, it keeps us there

Orientation

There's no people like Salem people
They smile wherever they go
And you can believe all of us when you're told
We'll never leave you out in the cold
And we wouldn't trade you for a sack of gold
It's Salem College we love!

Opening

Just this once, you will not be hearing me talk about SGA, but I would like to put my two cents in and welcome all of you back to Salem. If your summer has been anything like mine, it definitely went by too quickly . . . but once again we are back at school at the start of a new year.

And this being my last year, I have come to realize that the time we have together is just too short. Because as seniors . . . SENIORS . . . gosh, that still sounds so strange. I can remember so clearly when I was a freshman sitting down on the front row during an SGA meeting, just listening to the President and thinking to myself that maybe one day — I could even be President of SGA! After all, ALL she had to do was conduct SGA meetings once a month! Boy, did I have a lot to learn. That was three years ago . . . the time always seems to go by so quickly . . . but in looking back now, I can see that we really have come a long way.

This may sound preachy but I am very sincere when I say take advantage of what Salem has to offer, and appreciate what you have here, because its just too easy to take things for granted. Since Salem is a supportative community, which offers many opportunities for leadership, there is no better place or time to develop our capabilities and recognize our limitations. The friends you make and the things you experience, you will remember forever, but while you are here, find your niche and take time to become involved . . . drain Salem for everything she's worth, so that when the day comes, you will be able to walk away with a feeling of total satisfaction and accomplishment. And remember, "the sky's the limit."

Convocation

Freshman Mixer

More than 100 people attended the annual Freshman Mixer, held this year on Friday, September 4th. Don Smith provided the tape show, Ron provided the kegs, and Wake Forest, Davidson, UNC, Duke, N.C. State, and Hampden-Sidney provided the males. All combined to provide a good time for everyone.

Big Sis — Little Sis"

Even rain could not dampen the spirits of the Juniors and the Freshman as they got to know one another at the Big Sis — Little Sis Picnic held in September. It was a fun informal gathering of strangers that paved the way for a lasting relationship bwtween good friends.

Salem On Stage

A combination of Grease, Oliver, South Pacific, and a Chorus Line produced Fall Fest 1981. From breakfast in the refectory through entertainment in the Square to the traditional party at TOG, the day was filled with fun, friendship and sisterhood as only found at Salem.

Our Wonderful

Although our year is ending
It's really a beginning
We hope that you will remember our days with you
From our first sister picnic to the banquet tonight
You've shown us your spirit with smiles so bright.
Oh now that we are leaving
Our sister class so dear
How could we say good-bye to the ones that we love?
The two years we've known you, this year and the last
Are years filled with friendship that will always last.
Do you remember our life around Salem Square?
From the beginning sisterhood has made us quite a pair.
If ever we would leave you
How could it be in springtime
Knowing how in spring we'll be missing you all?
Oh no, not in springtime, summer, winter, or fall
We wish we'd never have to leave you at all.

From the first time we wore our gowns at Opening Convocation to the last time at Graduation, our senior year has been filled with unforgetable moments of fun and friendship. We attended our last freshman mixer and finally got to paint the bird above Bitting's door. We trimmed candles at Christmas and sang to the Salem community. We voted on graduation speakers and stuffed goodie-bags. We went door to door selling cups and lighters and bought countless donuts. We were honored at Sophomore-Senior and went on our last spring break. We hoped that we'd pass P.E. and wrote resumes. We mailed graduation announcements and took our last exams. And we sang to Roberta. Now that we have gone our separate ways, we will cherrish the memories of our days at Salem and remember the people that shared them with us.

SUNSHINE GOLD

by Sumner Brown

The tree is raining yellow gold,
Such sunshine coming down.
The beauty of this golden tree
Is falling all around.

I stand and let it rain on me,
The happy thoughts are there.
And when I leave reluctantly,
There's sunshine in my hair.

The gold will rain for many days,
Until my tree is bare,
As long as Autumn lasts, I'll laugh,
With sunshine in my hair.

The campus newspaper, The Salemite, has been serving the college community since 1920. In keeping with salem's tradition of open and thorough communication, the paper keeps the campus informed of events both within and beyond the Square. The Salemite is published every other week by the staff in cooperation with Lindsay Publishing Company of King.

Here we are
Feeling we've traveled so far
But each and every day has come too fast
Only the love we've shared will last.
Now it's here
The beginning of our last year
Oh how can we begin to tell you why
We fear so many things inside.
So there's no sense pretending
We can't help remembering . . .
Just when we thought we'd be leaving you
And just when we thought we would try on our own
Oh Salem your beauty comes shining through
And it seems so hard to have to leave you.

Through these years
We've lived, we've laughed, yes even shed tears
Now each of us must go our separate ways
Only with thoughts of Salem days.
How will we live without you
We'll miss everything about you.
Just when we thought we'd be leaving you
And just when we thought we would try on our own
Oh Salem your beauty comes shining through
And it seems so hard . . . to live without . . .
To love without . . .
It seems so sad without you.

Dr. Jeffrey Ersoff

The Class of 1983 honors Dr. Jeffrey Ersoff, Assistant Professor of Psychology, for his dedication to the class and to Salem College.

As our class advisor, Dr. Ersoff gave us guidance, friendship and strength. But more importantly, he gave us many special memories. His patience, devotion and good nature will long be remembered.

To show our appreciation for the memories he gave us while we were at Salem College, the Class of 1983 dedicates the 1983 Sights and Insights to Dr. Jeffrey Ersoff.
